GAME DECIDED IN NINTH

Boston Takes Game Featured by Late Inning Battle From St. Louis.

St. Louis, June 3.—Urban Shocker was batted from the box in the fourth inning and St. Louis dropped the first game of the series here today to Boston. The score was 8 to 7. The game finished in a succession of batting rallies by both teams, which held the result in doubt. Boone, Harris, and Oster pounded out home runs. Manager Lee Fohl of the Red Sox, former manager of the Browns, was presented with a diamond ring by friends, prior to the opening of the game. It is the first time since 1912 that a manager has been honored in this manner. St. Louis scored 10 runs in the ninth inning, but Boston's pitchers, Quinn, Ehmske, Murray, Fehr, Ferguson and O'Neill, Shocker, Hayne, Pruitt and Severid.

BATTING POSITION FOR A BEGINNER

USE YOUR OWN NATURAL BATTING POSITION.

What is a good batting position for a beginner to adopt?

Answered by STANLEY HARRIS

Playing manager, Washington Senators. Known for his keen knowledge of baseball strategy.

I advise every beginner to use his natural batting position even though it may have a weakness. In time opposing pitchers will usually pitch to this supposed weakness so much that the batter will get a great deal of practice and he will acquire the art of hitting a ball that was formerly impossible for him to hit safely.

Confidence without any fear is a great tonic while at bat.

CINCINNATI BEATS BOSTON.

Reds Bunch Hits Off Genewich, While Rixey Has Excellent Control.

Boston, June 3.—Cincinnati bunched hits off Genewich in the second, fourth, and fifth innings, knocked him out of the box and defeated Boston, 5 to 1, today. Eppa Rixey pitched masterful ball throughout.

He held Boston to five hits and did not give a base on balls. But for a wild throw by Fowler, which allowed Stengel to score from second, Rixey would have had a shutout.

Cincinnati scored 5 runs in the first inning, and the Reds scored 5 runs in the first inning.

Batteries—Rixey and Wingo; Genewich, Striker and O'Neill.

CARDINALS GET TWO HITS.

Both Sections Off Mitchell of Scratch Variety—Phillies Hit Opportunity.

St. Louis scored 2 runs in the first inning, and the Cardinals scored 2 runs in the first inning.

Batteries—Haines, Sherdel and Gonzales; Neibergall, Mitchell and Wilson.

GIANTS TAKE ANOTHER

Captain Content from Albany Professionals by Score of 7 to 2. Albany Professionals beat the Giants 7 to 2 in a game that showed the visitors had the ability to the franchise, despite the fact that the visitors' uniforms might indicate a make-shift club, picked up for the occasion. No two men had on similar garb. Signs of their teeth were seen in the first and third innings, when men got on, but nothing came of it in the line of run gathering. It was in the later innings that they obtained all of their three runs.

Eckstein hammered out a home in the seventh, putting Harner, who had tripled to center, over the platter ahead of him. Eck was steaming hard as he rounded the last corner and headed down the home stretch. Harner, Eckstein and Kalbrenner hit the ball for averages of 100, getting two hits out of two times at bat. Thomas, Ficht and Forget got two safeties out of four tries.

Each team made nine hits, but the locals got theirs at times when they counted to good advantage. The visitors had three men on with bases out in the eighth, but were unable to score more than two runs. Their first run had come in the seventh when Kalbrenner, with none out, was walked on four straight pitches. O'Keefe hit to short, who made a poor peg to second and two were on. Bauer was walked and O'Brien hit a sacrifice fly to left, O'Keefe being caught trying to make third from second on the out.

The home club got off to a three-run lead in the opening round. Wilcox drew a pass and Ficht got a bunt hit. Harner sacrificed and a peg and the last center fielder, Eckstein, poked out the runner, sending in both of the other runners and himself secured on Thomas' single to right. Lodestra fanned 12 men, on two occasions four successive batters whiffing the breezes. The last two outs in the first and all of the three in the second went out in this manner.

The team will be idle today, but tomorrow will meet the D. & H. Generals, the team which caused the Giants to fight 12 rounds before winning.

Sacrifice hits, O'Brien, Forget, Harner, Lobee 2. Time of game, 1:55. Umpire, Gilfillan.

More Diamond Clupe.

Back in the old strids again. Lodestra pitched a beautiful game. Ladies were admitted free to the contest.

Several men invited their wives for the first time. Harner and Eckstein had perfect batting averages for the day.

Onontia swiped so many safeties that it was rumored at one time during the afternoon that a delegation of state troopers had been summoned to stop the wholesale larceny.

The way the Giants went into second goes to prove the statement that a man is not necessarily out when he is out.

Thomas got two hits out of four times up and stole two bases. Not so bad for an old timer.

The Giants will enjoy a rest today. It's coming to them.

D. & H. Generals here Thursday and Friday.

Remember that 16 inning game? Eck was putting when he crossed the platter after his babe Ruth stunt. Did anyone say something about an old man?

The small boys had a good time trying to discover two Albany men wearing the same kind of a uniform. The lads were unequal to the task. What has D. D. done to the seats in the stands?

They were so comfortable yesterday that nobody got up to stretch in the seventh.

Famous Guys Who Golf

By Peg Murray

JOHNNIE WEISSMULLER

Several months ago I asked Johnnie Weissmuller what his best golf score was. "I shot an 84 at Park Ridge," was the human fish's answer. The other day I saw him swinging from the Evanston course and put the same question to him again. "I've got my score down to 89 now," he stated proudly. Write your own conclusion.

Anyway, the world's fastest swimmer is a great devotee of the A. and H. game and often plays the course of the Evanston Golf club with the Olympic swimming coach, William Bachrach (sometimes called the "covered wagon") as his caddy. Of course a water hazard is nothing to this amphibious pair. Johnnie once holed a 30 yard machine shot on a hole in two, and is almost as good a driver as he is a swimmer. He usually gets across lakes, creeks and reservoirs without changing from his "plus 4's" to his bathing suit, the above illustration to the contrary notwithstanding.

Ambitious Rookies Had

No Chance to Win Out

Bill Clymer as a manager was a great joksmith. One of his tricks had to do with inveigling players into laying down and beating out punts, and those who were in on the joke always kept still and enjoyed seeing Bill make a monkey out of newcomers who boasted of their speed in getting to first.

Clymer would bet them that he could pitch to them, that they could not lay down a punt to him and beat it out. A fast man would invariably take him up.

Bill would station fielders at third and short and at first, while he pitched to the ambitious batter. He would lay the ball over, the batter would bunt, and all over the ball would beat him out by a step.

It was simple enough, but batters, bunting and running head down to first, couldn't see it until a "diagram" was drawn for them. Bill would use two balls. One he would pitch, the batter would bunt it; Bill would make an apparently desperate effort to field it—and the ball would beat Mr. Batter to first.

Simple? Bill would make a well-timed throw of the ball he had up his sleeve to the first baseman and the runner was always out by a step.

Clymer, so they say, would make as much money out of this little betting proposition as out of his famous left envelope trick, which is another story.

Baseball Notes

Grover Alexander has never pitched a no-hit game.

The umpire may not always be right, but he wins all his arguments.

Beloit has signed Dan Tripp, a pitcher formerly with the Giants and later with Indianapolis.

Joe Dunn, manager of the Evansville Three I club, has signed Clifford Bulard, a Cynthiana (Ind.) pitcher.

Barney Burch, owner of the Omaha Western league club, has purchased Pitcher Stanton from San Francisco.

Pitchers Manning and Cowan have been turned over to Joplin of the Western league, to be sent to Rock.

Hank O'Day says if he can get by three more years as umpire he will be ready to retire from active service.

After the exercises at the church the children and others proceeded to the cemetery and decorated the graves of the old soldiers.

Adam Stedman, without hesitation, endorses and recommends Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery as a fine tonic to the blood and to cleanse the system from impurities. I was in a miserable state of health when my attention was drawn to this wonderful medicine. My food did me no good and I felt myself getting weaker all the time. The bottles of the Discovery were sent me on my feet and gave me strength—a feeling that I was getting on my feet again. It is several years since I have felt so well. I have been able to do all the work I want to do. I have perfect confidence in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery as a blood purifier and to build up the system. Mrs. W. M. ASK FOR DEMONSTRATION

THE LINCOLN POLICY persists inflexibly to produce the finest motor car in the world.

By FINEST MOTOR CAR IN THE WORLD we mean, without reservation, the most attractive in appearance; the most comfortable and least fatiguing in which to travel; the most fascinating to drive; the most dependable; the most enduring; the most roadworthy; and by every standard the most desirable and the most satisfying motor car of which it is possible to conceive. The effecting of that policy is made possible only because of abundant resources—in scientific equipment, in adept craftsmen, and in finances which are practically without limit.

LINCOLN POLICY is not subject to one iota of compromise. It is not subject to the influence of desire to meet a predetermined selling price.

LINCOLN POLICY is not subject to any adverse influence, regardless of whatsoever effort or expenditure may be required to perpetuate the world-known Leland standards. Quality and character, as always, will persistently stand foremost.

These scrupulously maintained, price then necessarily becomes incidental; and LINCOLN prices are merely what a car of LINCOLN quality and LINCOLN character, scientifically produced, must of necessity demand.

She Knows No Fear

OF OLD ONEONTA FAMILY

Mrs. Frances VanWoert Starr, descendant of Early New York Families, Died Here Yesterday.

Mrs. Frances VanWoert Starr, a life long resident of the vicinity of Oneonta, and a descendant of early New York families, died yesterday shortly after noon at her home, 48 London avenue, following an illness of a year, for the past two weeks of which she had been confined to her bed. Death was brought on by a complication of kidney and heart trouble.

Funeral services will be held from her late home Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. Dr. E. J. Farley of the First Baptist church officiating. Burial will be made at the Plains cemetery.

Frances A. VanWoert was born on the VanWoert homestead farm about half way between Oneonta and Otsego, just beyond Glen Bridge, June 9, 1848, the daughter of Andrew and Susan (Scrambling) VanWoert, both of whom were grandchildren of early New York settlers, in New Amsterdam, now New York city, and Fort Orange, Albany.

In connection with the ancestors of Mrs. Starr an incident regarding the marriage of one of her grandfathers might prove of interest. Her grandfather was possessed of 50 cents and her grandmother only 75 at the time of the ceremony. They immediately set out into the woods and climbed a section of land on which they built a log cabin, later accumulating a considerable fortune.

Mrs. Starr lived at her home until her marriage with Edgar A. Starr of Otsego on October 22, 1874, and until his death 22 years ago she lived at Otsego. About 21 years ago Mrs. Starr moved to Oneonta to make her home. Her daughter, Mrs. Jennie Hull, has always made her home with her mother, and in her last illness the deceased had every care and attention of the latter.

Surviving Mrs. Starr are, besides the daughter mentioned, one grandson, Lee Hull, and several nephews and nieces, Alton VanWoert of Otsego, Mrs. Merton Baker of this city, Mrs. Albany Crandall of Otsego, and Miss Helen VanWoert of Denver, Col.

The family, and especially Mrs. Hull, who had always lived with her mother, will have the sincere sympathy of a host of friends in its bereavement. Mrs. Starr was a woman of exceptionally fine character, happy and jolly to the last, fully appreciative of all that was done for her. She in turn was truly helpful to all in need and her circle of friends was wide and strong.

Mrs. Mary E. Howard.

Mrs. Mary E. Howard, widow of the late Augustus Howard, died yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Merton A. Blanchard, 42 Hudson street, following an illness dating back to last November. She was confined to the Fox Memorial hospital from November of last year until about two weeks ago, having undergone there two serious operations. Two weeks ago she was removed to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Blanchard, friends of hers.

BERNARD IN ENGLAND

WELL KNOWN INSURANCE MAN WRITES INTERESTINGLY OF THIS ABROAD.

Says Country Is Not Wet, Just a Little Muddy—He and H. C. Broadbent Motor Through Surrey and Somerset, Tolls of Empire Exhibition and Its Wonders.

Editor Star:—Have been reading the Stars (I mean Oneontas) to learn the news from dear old Oneonta. We had an enjoyable trip on the Olympic landed at Southampton, after paying our five-pound duty on our cigars (good investment), we were allowed to land, train in waiting and arrived in London, where we then took a motor to the city and on Monday motored through two beautiful counties, Surrey and Somerset, everything looking beautiful. We passed through the Croydon Airfield, where the planes start for France, making regular trips each day. This place was an important point during the war. I can see a great change for the better since I was here two years ago. Not many unemployed. Much building being done, especially in the west of England. You could not think that England was wet, but just a little moist. I have not seen a drunken person since my arrival and the public houses are restricted as to the hours for sale of liquors.

London is now crowded and thousands are arriving every day. We were at Buckingham Palace upon the arrival of the King and Queen of Romania, accompanied by the King and Queen of England. Immense crowds were present.

The one great attraction here now and will be for some time, is the Empire Exhibition at Wembley. I was there all day yesterday and hope to spend several days more there, and hope to take it all in. I saw the one in 1911 at Shepherd's Bush, the White City, but nothing in comparison to this one.

"Trade," as H. R. H., the Prince of Wales, president of the British Empire exhibition, said in a recent speech is "the great agent of civilization and the most faithful barometer of mankind's progress. It is costing over 10,000,000 pounds to produce and an entirely new concrete city has been erected to house it. It is estimated that a minimum of 25,000,000 people will have attended ere the close in October. The grounds themselves run over 216 acres, and extend as far as from Schenectady to Oneonta. Small electric cars, carrying about 20 persons, traverse the entire length. The buildings and contents from Australia, New Zealand and India are indescribable, in fact marvelous, with bands by the natives of each country and the one from India wonderful. All one hears is Wembley, especially those from abroad. There are many things yet to be done, but the main structures are all finished. Now the question and agitation is, will it be allowed to be opened on Sunday, so as to allow the working people to attend. I understand it is to be brought before the powers in authority, and hope it will pass.

One thing I must mention, and that is the Imperial Stadium, which dominates the landscape for miles around and is the largest and most complete sports arena in the world. It can accommodate 100,000 spectators. The stadium will be staged a magnificent pageant of empire. I am not sorry to know that you have had rather cold weather for the season. I have bought some special flies and I want to have a chance to catch some of the brook trout left in Elk Creek by the experts back home. I trusted my traveling companion to pay a visit to his old schoolmate and former Oneontan, George E. Chamberlain, in Scotland. He has failed to return, but Scotch Scotland has quite an attraction for him.

Cordially,

H. Bernard.

5,700 POPPIES SOLD.

Scout Norman Meagley, Jr., Disposes of 525 Memorial Flowers.

About 5,700 poppies were sold by Oneonta post of the American Legion during last week and the net proceeds will be something over $570. The entire amount will be sent to the Veterans' Mountain camp at Big Tupper lake in the Adirondacks.

Several Boy Scouts assisted in the sale and the prize for selling the most number of the memorial flowers was won by Norman Meagley, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Meagley, Sr., of 43 Maple street. Norman disposed of 525 poppies, an astonishing number for a small boy to sell out of school hours. The second prize went to John Hume, who sold 511 blossoms, but a few less than the number sold by the first prize winner. Third prize went to Wendell P. Allen, who sold 440, and fourth prize to Don Miller, who disposed of 262. All together the Scouts sold 2,709 of the flowers, nearly half of the total amount.

A Note From Mrs. Shotts.

Friends of Mrs. Orville Shotts, whose husband was recently killed in an auto accident at Elmira, and whose body was brought to this city for burial in the Cook cemetery at West Oneonta, will be interested to know, from a note recently received by The Star, that the family have returned to Elmira, where Bruce Shotts, a son of the deceased, has a responsible position with the Morrow Distributing company. The son William works nights after school for the Western Union Telegraph company, and Mrs. Shotts has recently passed a state civil service examination and has received offers of positions at good salaries.

It is the general opinion in Elmira that the accident would not have happened had there been a guard rail along the highway.

Instructing in Bridge.

Mrs. Curtis is conducting a series of bridge lessons, four being given each day at the homes of the twenty-four ladies who are members of the class. These lessons have aroused so much interest that Mrs. Curtis has been requested to return to Oneonta in the fall to give another series.

EDWARD W. PROPER DEAD

Resident, Oneonta, Proprietor, Schenectady to Camp.

Edward W. Proper, a well known resident of the city and for several years proprietor of the lunch room near the L. & E. shops in this city, died yesterday afternoon shortly after 5 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. McKinney, 6 Brook street, the latter a daughter-in-law, following an illness covering a period of nearly a year. For the past three weeks he had been confined to his bed and death came from a complication of diseases.

Funeral services will be held from the home where he died Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with Rev. W. C. Dodge of the Elm Park Methodist church officiating. Burial will be made at the Plains cemetery.

Mr. Proper was born in Gilboa in 1857, the son of Harrison and Abbie VanLoan Proper. He lived there for a time, later going to Blenheim, where in 1881 he was united in marriage to Anna Ardella Beach of that village. She died in May of 1905.

DEATH OF FRED PAGE

Hartwick Seminary Instructor Expires Suddenly at Schenectady.

Schenectady, June 2.—Fred Page, a former resident of Schenectady and for some time past musical instructor at Hartwick Seminary and organist in the church there, died very suddenly yesterday afternoon at the home of Warren Lewis in this village, where he was visiting.

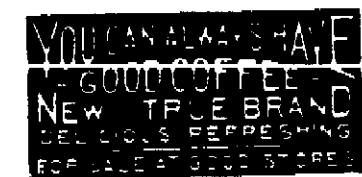

Mr. Page had eaten a hearty noon day meal, following which he played the piano for some minutes. He then announced his intention of lying down for a little while that he might secure a little rest before going to the circus in Oneonta in the evening with the Lewis boys. When a member of the family went to his room at about 5 o'clock to wake him they found his lifeless body on the bed.

Dr. Earl C. Winsor was called and he announced that death had resulted from heart trouble. Mr. Chase had suffered a severe attack of grip during the winter and it is thought that the disease had weakened his heart.

Further particulars concerning his life and notice of the funeral arrangements will appear in a later issue of The Star.

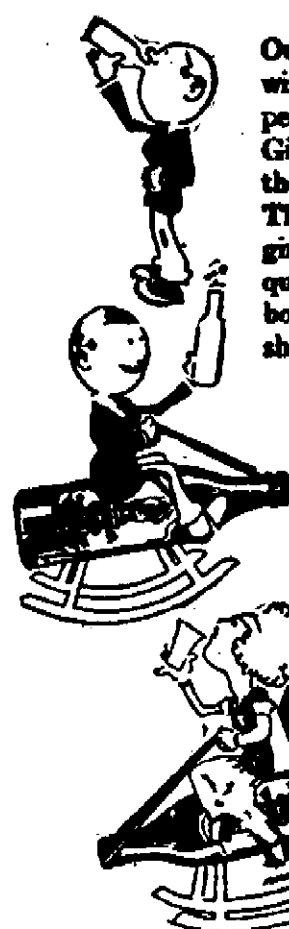

To Fox Memorial Hospital.

Dr. G. L. Hubbell of Stamford took Mrs. W. C. Porter, wife of ex-Sheriff Porter, to the Fox Memorial hospital for an operation and treatment Tuesday morning.

Arlington is an excellent example of a Colonial cottage which is attractive from every point of view. One appealing feature of this home is that every room has windows on at least two sides, insuring perfect ventilation during the summer months.

The principal room—13 feet, 3 inches by 29 feet—is amply large for both living and dining room and is divided by a wide, artistic arch. A pair of corner china cupboards are a feature of the dining room portion.

The kitchen is almost a duplicate of Plymouth, only a little smaller.

The basement entrance and stair to second floor are also similar to Plymouth.

The second floor contains two good bedrooms with spacious closets for each, a lavatory and storage space.

The house is only 33 feet by 33 feet in size, just right for the average city lot; the basement is full size of the house.

THIS COLONIAL cottage, with its quaint touches, green shutters and white trim, carries out the Colonial effect.

Bathrooms yield twofold benefits.

Two important advantages result when a modern bathroom is installed in a home.

First: The bathroom provides opportunity for the healthful practice of daily bathing. "A bath-a-day keeps you in every way."

Second: A modern bathroom increases the property value for more than the cost of having it installed. Homes that have modern bathrooms rent and sell for more.

A complete modern bathroom with its built-in or attached shower, medicine cabinet, built-in and enamel fixtures (towel rack, mirror, holder), is a convenience worth every dollar it cost. In truth, it proves to be the room, of all, most comfortable.

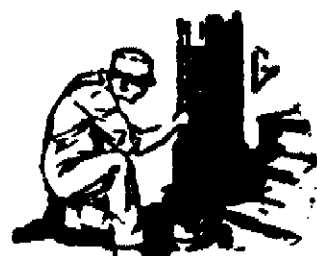

Ask us to show you plans for complete modern bathing facilities in your home. Let the whole household enjoy the healthful practice of daily bathing. Modern bathrooms—complete bathrooms—can be purchased for less than the cheapest automobile.

Honored With D. D. Degree

Rev. Dr. John W. Flynn, pastor of First Methodist church, Oneonta, N. Y., honored with degree of D. D. by Dickinson College yesterday.

AND NOW IT'S GONE

Snarling Wild Animals and Clowns of Circus Entertained Big Crowds Here

SHOW SURPRISINGLY CLEAN

Residents of Oneonta and Surrounding Country Fill Tents of Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus for Two Performances Yesterday and Tomorrow. Enjoy Wealth of Entertainment—Long Parade Develops Peculiar Situations.

"When a fellow needs a friend" could well be applied to yesterday for residents of the county surrounding Oneonta, for the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus exhibited here twice. The younger fellows needed friends to accompany them, while those of more advanced years wanted the kids as an excuse for their indulgence. However, neither was quite imperative for plenty of children worked their way in, while a number of the latter seemed unashamed in their interest in all things pertaining to the circus. From unloading yesterday morning, through the parade, the shows and the loading, there was a goodly crowd on hand of those who cannot tire of circuses.

Women and girls need not feel excluded, however. The circus is a place where male and female are all good fellows. The performances, given on Wilcox street, at 2 and 8 o'clock, were much enjoyed by large crowds, and were filled with animal acts, antics of clowns, and other specialty acts, such as often may be found, still never in greater profusion. The horses used in the parade, as well as those appearing in the various acts, came in for a full measure of Oneonta approval.

Tunnel Proves Troublesome.

The circus train was late in leaving Binghamton and three locomotives were utilized in pulling it into Oneonta. Considerable difficulty was encountered by the organization in passing through the tunnel through Belton hill near Binghamton, many of the animals for which the show is noted suffering ill effects of the confined smoke.

However, once in Oneonta, in the presence of a crowd larger because of the delay, the unloading was accomplished with haste and little difficulty. The circus, as that was noted in the process, that being when one of the wagons got beyond the control of the men and rammed into the D. & H. station, near which the train was unloaded, and loosened several blocks of stone and knocked out one of the downy framework on the southern side of the building was also driven inward.

Long Parade Attracts Attention.

Children and calliope. Men and monkeys. Balloons and hulaes. That was the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus parade on Main street yesterday. At the last sound of the brass band, Oneonta traffic crashed into thin air, and the parade advanced, headed by what looked like a lead balloon. The parade, which was followed by a calliope whose note was evidently was.

If made to the seat of smoke—steam up!

In the midst of the growing excitement a sympathetic crowd at the corner of Main and Chestnut streets, a few feet from the end of the parade, suddenly broke into a riot. It was a riot of a peculiar kind. A lady in crimson approached a praying white horse and the outside blind man glanced suddenly over his dark spectacles with a knowing grin. A cry of "aas" came from the crowd. The parade continued but with one interruption, caused by the steam calliope, which suddenly returned to steam as the door at the back of the calliope wagon was opened a gust of steam, which, being crowded around the calliope, was blown into the eyes of the crowd, who were forced to leap the railing of the street. A young man, who was standing in a crowd, was struck in the face by a gust of steam. He slipped and fell.

Three Less Objectionable Features.

The circus was undoubtedly one of the cleanest which has ever visited Oneonta, and three features of the entire department and City Judge Van

ONEONTA IN THE MOVIES

Pictures Taken Yesterday of Caboose in Which B. of N. Y. Was Founded and Other Points of Interest.

Oneonta is breaking into the movie arena, this time in a release which is to picture the advance of the past 40 years in railroading. Mr. Flanagan of the Pathe company of New York city brought his camera here yesterday and pictured the old caboose in which the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen was founded here in 1883. Pictures of the Oneonta yards "hump" in operation and views of Oneonta business section, particularly of the Stanton block, at the corner of Main and Chestnut streets, part of which is now occupied by Spencer's Clothes.

The scenes are part of a release soon to be exhibited which will illustrate the advance in railroading in the past forty years. And since the Brotherhood of Trainmen, one of the strongest organizations of railroad labor, was founded here that period of years ago, it is only natural that an interest should be taken in the caboose. In the city yesterday to take their places in the picture were two of the founders of the organization, W. C. Gurney of Binghamton and Elmer Wessell of Binghamton. Two other of the charter members were detained by illness, Martin Ryan at his home in Binghamton and Charles Woodruff at a hospital in Cleveland, his home city.

Pictures of the hump were taken while that part of the yards was in full operation. The pictures of the Stanton block were included since the first convention of the Grand lodge of the B. of R. T. was held there in October of 1884. Pictures of the new headquarters of the order are to be included, along with those of the Cleveland Municipal convention hall in which the conventions of the lodge are held, by way of contrast.

The visitors were entertained at dinner by the committee of Daniel Hopkins lodge of this city composed of Marshall E. Roach as chairman and D. A. Devine, W. D. Blake and Martin Degnan of Albany. Included in the guests were, besides the men already mentioned, D. L. Chase, editor of the official organ of the B. of R. T., Assistant Trainmaster Lawlor, Divisional Car Foreman Dittmore, Vice President Myron Leach of the local lodge, Treasurer L. D. Slade, John L. Young and Benjamin Lee.

Beauty Hints From the Circus.

Have you seen the Hagenbeck adjustable horse tails for bobbed haired horse bandits? They come in blond and brunette shades and are tied with baby blue ribbon.

Hagenbeck claims are advocating a milk bath, said to be more beneficial than a mud pack and imparting all of the charms of a skin you love to touch.

A circus girl can advertise on Oneonta bank and a motor company but not holproof holery. "You just know she doesn't wear 'em."

The Hagenbeck hair cutter is more efficient than any other on the market. Proceed: Take a deep breath and dive under a machine that is a cross between a camera and a victrola. Remain under the camera curtain while the victrola handle is wound. At the report of a pistol emerge and you will have a boyish bob—with variations.

DRY AGENTS SEIZE 2,600 CASES OF STORED LIQUOR

New York, June 3. — Prohibition agents today confiscated 2,600 cases of assorted liquors, estimated to be worth $400,000, in a building on the East river front used as a stable and warehouse. The liquor was stored on the fifth floor in a room heavily padlocked.

Agent Van Hook and the others had evidence on which to seek the arrest of 12 wealthy men who are said to have imported the liquor. Joseph Cohen, a Jewish trader in wine, was arrested. He was fined over the road by a justice's court, and the evidence appeared.

The location of the stock was found by watching liquor taken into the building.

MILK PRICE FALLS

Despite Agreement of Committee of Fifteen on $2.33 Figure for Class 1, It Isn't Followed

SHEFFIELDS MAKE STATEMENT

Milk Distributing Firm Declares Dairymen's League Not $1.00 Figure After Approaching Other — Another Meeting to be Held at Utica, June 7th.

Despite dairymen's hopes for $2.33 for class 1 milk in June, it is apparent that $1.00 a hundred pounds, is the best that can be realized. This is the price that the Dairymen's League cooperative association, Inc., announced 18 days ago, and Monday the Sheffield Farms company producers in New York agreed to the same price "to meet this competition."

An authorized statement issued by an official of the Sheffield Farms Producers relative to the failure of the increased price to become a reality says:

"May 14 a number of producers representing all the different groups met in Utica to see if some arrangement could be made to get more money for milk. At this meeting three representatives from each of the five groups were appointed to recommend some plan that would relieve the distress among dairymen caused by the low price of milk. On this committee were three members of each of these groups: Dairymen's League, Eastern States, Non-Poolers, Sheffield Producers and Independents.

The committee chose Henry Burden of the Dairymen's league for chairman, and C. W. Halliday of the Sheffield Producers for secretary. May 24 this committee of 15 met in Utica. After a thorough discussion, the committee unanimously agreed to recommend the selling of all milk for the present on the multiple price plan and also recommended that Class 1 milk for the month of June be offered at $2.33 for 3 per cent milk with the usual differentials. May 27 the group members of the Sheffield Producers met in New York and unanimously adopted the recommendations of the committee of 15 and recommended $2.33 as our price for Class 1 milk for June. The Sheffield Farms company willingly accepted this price, contingent of course on the other groups making similar prices.

"Shortly thereafter the league announced a classification of prices in which they named $1.86 as the price of Class 1 milk, which is 47 cents a hundred pounds below the price their representatives had agreed to recommend. Although all three of the league representatives May 24 assured the committee of 15 that so far as they knew the league had not made a price for June milk, yet the

INCOME TAX CUT EFFECTIVE

Washington, June 3.—The provision for a 25 per cent reduction in income taxes payable this year, contained in the new revenue law, may be put into effect by the taxpayer immediately. Persons paying on the installment plan may cut their second payment, due June 15, by one-half and the last two installments by one-fourth each.

Those who paid the full tax on March 15 will receive as soon as is possible a refund of one-fourth from the treasury, without making application for it.

League later announced the price had been made May 21, or three days before the meeting at which the committee agreed to recommend the price of $2.33. In order to meet this competition we have met today and established these classifications and prices to be paid in June, 1924:

"Class No. 1.—For all milk sold retail and wholesale, $1.86 per hundred pounds, subject to the usual butterfat differentials.

"Class No. 2.—For all milk used for making market cream, $1.76 per hundred pounds, for 3 per cent milk with the usual butterfat differentials.

"Class No. 3.—For all milk used for sterilized evaporated, whole milk, sweetened condensed milk chocolate, $1.55 per hundred pounds, with the usual butterfat differentials.

"Class No. 4.—For the balance of all milk purchased and not used in above classifications, the price will be determined according to market conditions.

"The above prices are for milk in the 201-210-mile zone with the usual freight differentials.

"The above prices are all subject to revision through a conference, if the market conditions should require.

"The Sheffield producers adopted every recommendation of their representatives on the committee of 15 and had the league done likewise it would have put hundreds of thousands of dollars into the pockets of milk producers. We still hope that something may be done to relieve the financial distress of dairymen, but it must be done, if at all, by the united action of all the groups and by keeping to the letter every agreement entered into. Another meeting of the committee of 15 will be held in Utica June 7 and at that time the representatives of the Sheffield producers will again do all in their power to make some arrangement that will relieve the present deplorable conditions.

"In the meantime, we believe the Sheffield producers, because their milk is marketed at the lowest possible cost, will receive as they have always received before the highest price for their milk that is paid to any group selling on this market.
